DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.
- Claims 1-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lee (U.S. 2. 5,978,920). Lee discloses a computer (game) system having a function of interrupting lewd/violent programs which includes a read-only-memory for storing an initialization program and a security grade setup program; a non-volatile memory device for storing a security grade which is a program classification code selected by a user (parent) for designating an unacceptable program content contained in an application program, and a password for identifying the user (parent) when changing the security grade; and a controller for controlling execution of an application program according to the security grade of the application program and the security grade stored in the non-volatile memory device during initialization, and for controlling the changing of the security grade stored in the non-volatile memory device during the security grade setup, when the user (parent) inputs a password that corresponds to the password stored in the non-volatile memory device. As a result, the computer (game) system is able to limit access to application programs that contain unacceptable levels of graphic sex, violence, and strong language (Abstract, Figs. 1-5, Column 2, line 25-Column 3, line 16, Column 3, line 47-Column 4, line 43, Column 5, lines 6-30, Column 6, line 53-Column 7, line 20).
